This is not a Court Order.

You or the other party may need to set your restraining order hearing for another day.

This happens when:

- You were not able to get your temporary restraining order served or
- The other person asked for time to get a lawyer or prepare an answer or
- You need to meet with a Family Court mediator about child custody or visitation

To change your restraining order hearing to another day, follow these steps:

For the protected person:

- Fill out this form DV-114, Request to Continue Temporary Restraining Order.
Fill out items ① and 2 on form DV-116, Notice of Hearing on Request for Reissuance or Continuance.
- Ask the judge to sign it and give you a new hearing date. In some courts, you must give your form to the clerk for the judge's signature. Ask your court clerk for information on the local process.
File the forms with the clerk.
- The clerk will make 5 copies for you. Ask the clerk to stamp "Filed" on your copies.
- Attach 1 "filed" copy of Forms DV-114 and DV-116 to your other court papers (Forms DV-100 and DV-110).
Get them served on the restrained person. Do this right away. Now your orders will last until the new hearing date.
- The clerk will send your restraining order to law enforcement or CLETS for you. CLETS is a statewide computer system that lets police know about your order.
- Bring all your papers back to the next court hearing, including the proof of service.

For the restrained person:

- Fill out this form DV-114, Request to Continue Temporary Restraining Order.
- Fill out items 1 and 2 on form DV-116, Notice of Hearing on Request for Reissuance or Continuance.
- Ask the judge to sign it and give you a new hearing date. In some courts, you must give your form to the clerk for the judge's signature. Ask your court clerk for information on the local process.
- File the forms with the clerk.
- The clerk will make 5 copies for you. Ask the clerk to stamp "Filed" on your copies.
- Get them served on the protected person. Do this right away.
- Bring all your papers back to the next court hearing, including the proof of service.
